

HELP FOR UKRAINE Earlier this year, following an appeal, we supported Ukrainian Christian Ministries who are “taking the gospel to every community, meeting their material needs and equipping Ukrainians for a brighter future”. As we approach winter it would be marvellous if we could support them again as they also continue to meet the needs of displaced people with food, bedding, medicines and other essentials. Please continue to pray for Ukraine.

If you would like to make a contribution please place a donation in a suitably marked envelope or directly to our bank account using the reference “Ukraine”.

FOODBANK Donations can be put in the collection crates in the church centre foyer. Alternatively, you can make a cash donation online at: <https://westcheshire.foodbank.org.uk/give-help/donate-money/>
Thank you for your continued support!

You may have watched, or at least heard of, 'The Chosen', a multi-season series about the life of Jesus. Well, the new season (season 3) is being released THIS week! Episodes 1 and 2 are being shown at Vue Cinema in Cheshire Oaks between Friday 18th and Tuesday 22nd November. Definitely worth a watch! If you have never watched it but think you might like to, seasons 1 and 2 are available on Amazon Prime, or via an app you can download free (although lots of people have unfortunately reported problems with the app).

Having managed to successfully navigate through training, I've been licensed as a volunteer Waterways Chaplain!

This means I am now privileged to be able to wander up and down the canal towpath in Chester in the hope of spreading a little bit of God's love to people I meet and lend a listening ear if needed.

I am to be commissioned for this role, this Sunday at the 10:45 service, so I will look forward to seeing you there.

Thanks for your support. Jim Ellis

We commemorated Armistice Day with a very special worship. It was wonderful to welcome friends from All Saints' Church, the local community and the Belong Care Village in Chester to join with us in remembering servicemen and women who have given their lives for our country.

To commemorate the fortieth anniversary of the Falklands War, the service focused on Simon Weston and the Sir Galahad military boat. We talked about Simon Weston who had been very badly injured but showed perseverance and determination to recover in order to help other people and make a difference in the world around him.

At the end of the service, children laid poppies on our wall of remembrance. Many pupils had written messages of remembrance on their poppies, showing how they had reflected on the sacrifice of the fallen. Visitors were also welcomed to lay poppies and many did this with an escort from our youngest children in Reception Class.

Later in the afternoon, older children were visited by Chris Caroe, a veteran of the Falklands War. Mr Caroe joined us from an appearance on BBC Breakfast News that morning. Mr Caroe spoke to pupils about his experiences and his feelings on Armistice Day. Pupils were enthralled to listen to Mr Caroe and his first-hand account of conflict. I feel so fortunate that we are able to offer children experiences like this which support them in becoming tolerant and responsible citizens of the future.

The children reflected on the day's events. I have shared some of their reflections below:

"It's not all about war and conquest. It is about being thankful for the things you have."

"This taught me to be thankful for the small things and how even though they were the enemy, the soldiers still cared for the Argentinian prisoners."

"It has made me think differently about not only being thankful for the British soldiers but also for all of the others."

"It showed me that friendship helps you to get on in life."

"It has made me realise how special Remembrance Day is for everyone."

"It inspires me to help people and team work with loyal friends."

"This made me even more thankful for every person who fought for our country."

"I learnt to be thankful and live life to the fullest and maybe the impossible may be possible."

A very special thank you to members of the All Saints congregation who joined us for the this service. It was so special to welcome you to our school.

Thank you for your prayers and best wishes for our school family.
